Spirited Porks Turn Back Highly Touted Frogs

FAVETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The University of Arkansas — a fast and tough darkhorse in the Southwest Conference football race — starts practice today for its next league foe — Baylor.

The clash will be Saturday at Waco.

The Frogs spilled defending champion Texas Christian 34 Saturday via the toe of Freddy Akers, who booted a 28-yard field goal that spelled the difference in a rain-swept contest at Fayetteville.

TCU, big, speedy and rugged, couldn't shove aside a determined frog team, which jared the Frogs for seven fumbles, four of which Arkansas recovered.

The Porks drove down to the TCU five-yard line early in the second quarter. Twenty-three yards were gained on a scamper by half-back Darrell Williams. Then the Hogs lost a yard and drew a delay penalty — for braking Akers in — to the 10. Akers kicked from a slight angle and sent the ball sailing perfectly through the up-

Haney Quits as Manager of the Braves

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves are seeking a name manager to succeed Fred Haney who resigned Sunday night after leading the club to two pennants and two second-place finishes in four years.

Lou Perini, who disclosed that Haney, 61, had been offered a one-year contract but had turned it down, said he had no idea who will handle the club in 1960.

He added, however, that the new manager will be a man with experience, reputation, and a known ability to handle me.

This was interpreted in some quarters that Perini felt his club needed a leader with strong will and an iron hand.

"We will start from the top and work our way down," he said. "But we won't go down too far."

Perini left open the possibility that the job may go to Birdie L. Betts, the club's executive vice president, if the Braves couldn't find their man.

Tebbetts, who managed the Cincinnati Reds before turning to the executive end of the game, said rights.

In the third quarter, Arkansas traveled to the TCU 10 and appeared headed for pay dirt but a pass interception by TCU halfback Marshall Harris killed the drive.

The Frogs outgained Arkansas in total offense, 188 yards to 166.

Chicago Will Go With Veteran Wynn Today

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Chicago's go-go White Sox, still running, but running second, turned back to old guy Early Wynn for today's fourth World Series game against the Los Angeles Dodgers, who have a 2-1 edge.

The Dodgers, now 2-1 favorites to win the world championship after taking Sunday's game 3-1 before a series record crowd of 92,294, are favored at 8-5 for the fourth game behind Roger Craig, the right-hander Wynn beat 11-0 in the opener at Chicago.

Wynn, who had to leave in the eighth inning of that game when his elbow stiffened, is one of the toughest clutch pitchers in the business. He's the right hander even New York Yankee manager Casey Stengel "would have to pitch if I wanted to win one game."

And that's what the Sox need after blowing chances in every inning Sunday against winner Don Drysdale and reliever Larry Sherry, who put away his second straight series save.

Only two clubs — the 1925 Pittsburghs against Washington, and last year's Yankees against Milwaukee — ever have become world champions after losing three of the first four in a seven-game series. That's the task the Sox would face with another loss today.

"I still think we gotta helluva chance," said manager Al Lopez. "We've been doing things the hard way all year on this club, and we might as well end it that way."

Lopez shrugged when asked whether he still intends to try going in this park. Balls hit off the nearby left field screen plunge frighteningly fast into the fielder's glove.

The White Sox, warned that the Dodgers throw out quite a few runners at second here, didn't try for doubles on shots to the screen.

"We didn't run any different Sunday than we always do," said Lopez, whose Sox have stolen just one base in four tries against Dodger catcher John Roseboro.

That lone steal came in Sunday's first inning. Jim Landis slid into second without drawing a throw from Roseboro, who was watching Nellie Fox, the runner at third.

however, he was not a candidate for the job.

The list of candidates was headed, of course, by Leo Durocher, who managed both the Dodgers and Giants to National League pennants, and Red Schoendienst.

Veteran Braves second baseman who was sidelined most of the year because of tuberculosis.

Others high on the list include Freddie Hutchinson, manager of the Reds; Eddie Stankovic, now in an official capacity with the St. Louis Cardinals; Bobby Bragan, manager of the Spokane club, and former big league manager Lou Boudreau, now in the radio field, and Bob Scheffing, recently ousted as Chicago Cubs manager.

"I would think that Durocher would possibly fit the description of the type of manager we will be looking for," a Milwaukee official said. "But right now we have no one in mind we only know that he must be a highly capable, experienced and strong type of manager. It is no secret that our club is not the easiest to handle."

Haney, who said he resigned "in order to be fair to myself and my family with whom I've not spent much time," said he had no immediate plans.

"No," he said, "I'm not interested in another job. You don't give up a $40,000-a-year job to go looking for another one. Right now, I have nothing in mind except to take a vacation with Mrs. Haney."

Haney took over as Milwaukee manager in mid-June of 1956, succeeding Charlie Grimm while the team was on a losing streak. The club promptly won 11 in a row but lost the pennant on the final weekend of the season to the Dodgers.

Haney won the pennant in 1957 and beat the New York Yankees in seven games in the World Series. He won the pennant again in 1958 but lost to the Yankees in seven games after winning three of the first four games. This year the Braves dawdled much of the season, catching up in the last two weeks but finally losing when the Dodgers beat them two straight in a best-of-three playoff.

At last the bartender turned from the telephone, slowly, leisurely. "Is your name Dr. Mallory? Somebody wishes to speak to you."

El Gallo was slouched in an immense easy chair like a throne. He grunted at Mallory's polite inquiry regarding the state of his health. "If I were well, you would not be here."

"And we are prepared to carry out our part," Mallory said, indicating the veterinary bag that Cloris held.

"Good," El Gallo began to remove his broad-brimmed smoking jacket. "We can begin at once with the medicine."

"I believe we should begin instead with the talk," El Gallo sniffed indifferently. "It doesn't matter. What is it you want to know?"

"The names and descriptions of men you helped and a description of the transportation you furnished them. Also, their route, the spot where they intend to cross the border, and where you think they may be now."

"I deal only with the Americans," the man named Steve, I don't know the names of the others." El Gallo embarked on a description of the three men. Mallory cleared at Cloris's shock. They had found beneath the rocks at Boca de Salsed.

According to El Gallo, the three strangers had departed in a brown pickup truck on a route which he personally had suggested. This route generally followed the meanderings of the highway

Many Upsets in Pro Grid Play Sunday

By MIKE RATHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Using the mercurial Tommy McDonald as his chief executioner, Ol' Man Upset has completely scrambled the form sheet in the National Football League's two-week-old campaign.

The footed McDonald scored four times Sunday to lead Philadelphia's downpounded Eagles to a methodical 49-21 demolition of the Eastern Division champion New York Giants in a weekend crammed with upsets.

The 5-foot-10, 130-pound Oklahoma All-America caught passes of 55, 33 and 19 yards for touchdowns and sped 81 yards with a punt return for another TD in his most productive day of a three-year career.

Jimmy Brown got the job done for Cleveland, carrying a near-record 37 times, gaining 147 yards and scoring twice as the Browns whacked the Chicago Cardinals 34-7. The Cards were last-minute picks as favorites.

Things were no different in the West where Chicago's Bears bounced back from an opening game upset to spend NFL championship Baltimore 20-21 despite three TD passes by Colt quarterback Johnny Unitas.

Green Bay and San Francisco, generally figured to battle for last place in the West, wound up as the only undefeated teams. The Packers whipped Detroit 28-10 and the 49ers thumped highly rated Los Angeles 34-0.

Washington responded to a tongue-lashing from Coach Mike Nixon for a 23-17 triumph over Pittsburgh.

McDonald, who caught six passes in all for 133 yards, began the Eagle romp by taking the first of two touchdowns passes from Norm Van Brocklin. Outgained over-all 339 to 299 by the Giants, Philadelphia broke it open with three third-period scores to hand New York its worst defeat since 1953.

Two o'clock came and went, then two-thirty while Mallory fidgeted. Although he scoffed at himself, his imagination began to churn out ugly pictures. A young woman, alone in a strange city.

At a quarter to three, he couldn't stand it any longer. As he rose to leave, Cloris came striding in, not only unharmed but smiling. At the sight of her, Mallory's concern "gave way to irritation. "Where have you been?"

She was in such good spirits that she didn't notice his annoyance. "It took me longer than I thought because nearly every body's taking a nap. I had to wake the drugist up to get it."

"To get what?" He saw that she carried a small parcel.

"Of course, if he hadn't been so sleepy, he might have read my credentials more carefully and seen that I'm not really an M.D." She put the package on the table between them. "I think I handled it pretty well. If I do say so myself."

"Do you mind telling me what you're talking about?" "Sodium pentathol. You know what it is, don't you?"

"I guess so. Some sort of anesthetic."

She paused, expecting him to understand. "Don't you see? If we can get El Gallo to take this..."

Church bells began to toll the hour. As Cloris and Mallory stared at each other with disbelieving, the faraway chiming was drowned by a bell close at hand, the bar telephone. They turned toward it instinctively and Cloris placed her hand on Mallory's. Neither spoke, fearing to put their hope into words.

At last the bartender turned from the telephone, slowly, leisurely. "Is your name Dr. Mallory? Somebody wishes to speak to you."

El Gallo was slouched in an immense easy chair like a throne. He grunted at Mallory's polite inquiry regarding the state of his health. "If I were well, you would not be here."

Porks' Stock Goes Up With TCU Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A college football's double-header two games in the same stadium in less than 2 hours—features the Southwest Conference campaign this week.

Back in 1950 such a twin bill in Dallas' Cotton Bowl drew 150,000 fans but it won't equal that this time although the schedule is mostly attractive—Southern Methodist vs. Missouri Friday night; Texas vs. Oklahoma Saturday.

The Texas-Oklahoma game, a deep-dyed inter-sectional rivalry that's been going on for 30 years, will pack the Cotton Bowl with 75,000. The SMU-Missouri game is expected to attract about 40,000.

Texas will be finding out if it can claim the distinction of being the best team in the conference. It is generally agreed that Oklahoma is the greatest test for the undefeated, untied, unscored on Longhorns.

Southern Methodist, which won its first game last week when it whipped Navy 20-7, expects trouble, too, from Missouri, which has beaten Michigan and Iowa State while losing to Penn State.

The league, which won four out of six inter-sectional games last week, will have only three this time. In addition to the Dallas snow, Rice will be clashing with undefeated Florida at Houston in a Saturday night game.

Texas Tech, a member not competing for the championship, risks its undefeated record against Texas Christian at Lubbock while Texas A&M hosts Oklahoma at the Missouri Valley Conference at College Station, Arkansas and Baylor meet at Waco in a conference game.

Only three undefeated, untied teams remain as the conference rounds out its first month. They are Texas, Texas Tech and Arkansas. The latter grew in stature last week when it lunched defending conference champion Texas Christian 3-0. In fact, Arkansas has the longest winning streak of them all—seven games. The Razorbacks won their last four in 1958. They have taken three this season.

In padding its inter-sectional record last week, the conference saw Texas Tech California 24-6, Texas Tech vs. Tulsa 47, Texas A&M vs. Mississippi Southern 7-3 and SMU trample Navy.

Rice and Baylor, however, dropped tests against outsiders. Rice remained winless by tumbling before Duke 24-7. Baylor took its first loss—22-0 from Louisiana State.

Personal Mention

Friends of Mrs. Mary Ella Watkins will regret to know that she is ill and a patient in Hempstead County Memorial Hospital.

Consequently, El Gallo concluded, "you should find the men you seek at San Felipe within the next 24 hours."

Cloris said, "Is there some place where you could lie down?" El Gallo regarded her blankly. "You see, this involves rather delicate techniques and actually should be performed only in a hospital."

"What is so delicate about vaccination?" Cloris explained, hoping that she sounded authoritative instead of scared to death.

El Gallo swallowed the gibberish but couldn't quite conquer his native suspicion. "Very well," he said slowly. "We will go to my bedroom. But Cagigas will accompany us."

"I wonder if that's wise," Mallory said. "You see, we have only enough serum for one, Cagigas might wonder why he's being left out. Of course, it's up to you."

"Yes, we shouldn't be cruel to Cagigas," El Gallo agreed, getting up. "I'm sure he would understand but there's no use worrying him unnecessarily."

El Gallo's bedroom at the rear of the house, was actually a suite that included a guest-room and bath as well as sleeping quarters.

El Gallo watched her preparing the syringe. He commented nervously, "That is an exceedingly large needle."

It was, indeed, since its proper use was for inoculating livestock. "As I told you, this differs somewhat from the ordinary injection," Cloris laid the syringe carefully aside and began to knot a rubber cord below his biceps. "Close your fist, please. I need to find the vein."

"Do you intend to bleed me?" El Gallo asked, shying away. "What sort of trick is this?"

The slightest tremor came into Mallory's voice. "No trick. This is the way it's done."

The bluff worked. El Gallo muttered, "Very well. I'm sure you know better than to deal falsely with me. Cagigas has his orders."

Picture Highlights of Bobcats' 21-6 Defeat Friday

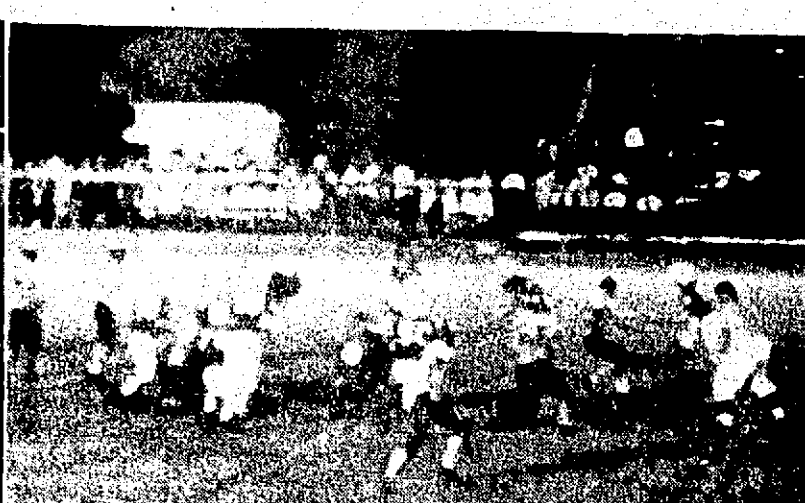

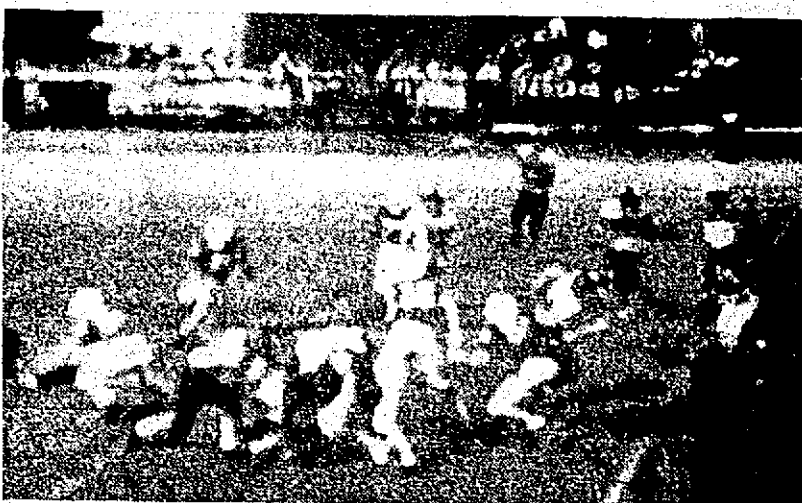

—Contax telephotos, Alex. H. Washburn
JOHNNY TURNER, 11 (ARROW), CARRIES FOR A 3-YARD GAIN in the fourth quarter against Ouachita Parish of Monroe, La., last Friday night at the local stadium. Turner missed first down on the Hope 27 by a scant half-yard. The Bobcats then gambled on fourth down and made it. Bobcats identifiable in the picture, left to right: Fullback Terry Don Thurman (15); Tackle Bill Walters (61); and Center Tommy Jones (80).

IN THIS THIRD-QUARTER PLAY HOPE HALFBACK EDDIE KING, 17, (ARROW) has just taken a pass from Quarterback Byron Smiley for a 7-yard gain and first down on the Hope 34. King was wriggling loose from the tackler shown in the picture but he binned three Ouachita Parish players brought him down.

—Marge Harrie photos, Shipley Studio
THESE PHOTOS WERE MADE DURING THE LAST HALF of the game by Mrs. Marge Harrie of Shipley Studio. As a film test, The Star furnished her with a roll of the same fast new German Agfa Isopan Record film that the newspaper used in making the top pictures — with this difference: The newspaper used a 4x telephoto night lens, the Zeiss F2.8 180mm, boosted by a powerful flashbulb; while Mrs. Harrie used a Canon camera with standard

F1.8 50mm. lens, shooting without flash. She got good pictures at both 1/200th (above) and 1/500th second. The newspaper developed all the negatives in the same tank — but the standard-lens shots could be enlarged only 4 times before film "grain" blurred the prints, while the telephoto shots took a 12-time enlargement — magnifying the original image 48 times... 4 in the lens, 12 in the enlarger.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright Addresses Joint Session of Civic Clubs

The Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary Clubs held a joint luncheon meeting at the Lee Hotel Tuesday with 75 members and guests present. President J. T. McRae, introduced Sen. Fulbright by giving a brief history of his life. The senator was an instructor in the schools of the state and was president of the U of A at one time. He represented the Fayetteville congressional district in the House of Representatives and assumed his office as U.S. Senator in 1945. He is now chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee in the Senate. The senator was received with a standing ovation by the group. He gave some of the high spots of his term in office. He explained his action on various laws introduced and why he voted as he did. The gave a brief account of the appropriations for public works in the state, and the National secondary road appropriation. He said he was strictly a Southerner on the integration question and would do all he could to adjust it. The senator stated that the representatives from Arkansas worked together for all things that would benefit the state.

Out of town visitors included E. Jamerson, Billy Roe, Bill Rhinehardt, Hope, J. R. Bemis, Jim Morris, A. A. Kizzia, W. K. Pickett, Delight, T. C. Cox, Oren Ellis, worth, Rev. Alfred DeBlack, Clarence Kilmonman, Sheridan, M. D. Tippit, Edmond Ligan, Clarence Gordon.

ed unanimously. The pessimistic reports raised speculation President Eisenhower will invoke the Taft-Hartley law this week and send the half-million strikers back to the mills at least for an 80-day cooling-off period.

President David J. McDonald of the Steelworkers would not say if the executive board recommended rejection. But he did say he has the solid support of the striking members.

Even before the board meeting ended, there were reports from Washington that government attorneys were working on plans for quick Taft-Hartley action to stop the costly strike.

The first step would be for the President to declare an emergency and appoint a fact-finding committee. Then, if the committee reports an emergency, a federal court injunction would be sought.

Industry sources earlier reported the management offer would increase labor costs about 16 cents an hour during the life of a two-year contract. But union sources said added labor costs would come closer to 10 cents an hour during a two-year period.

The union and management settled at Cora Donnell Hospital on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Dews of San Antonio, Tex. and formerly of Prescott, announce the arrival of a daughter, Elizabeth Jane, born Sept. 26th.

facturing — the type of industry common to the mid and late 1800s — is intended to add to the realism of the Village's frontier atmosphere, Arkla officials said.

"We are proud and pleased to locate this unusual new industry and tourist attraction in Arkansas and the Middle South," said W. R. Stephens, president and board chairman of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., of which Arkla is a subsidiary.

"We feel," he added, "that Arkla Village will help put Arkansas and the immediate vicinity on the map. It not only will be the center of horse carriage manufacturing for the nation, but it also will become an important hub of furniture production and will bring many visitors from outside this region who will be attracted by the uniqueness of this type of industry in the authentic frontier surroundings."

Stephens said that construction of Arkla Village was in line with a program of industrial expansion on the gas company's system, as well as with a trend toward reviving turn of the century products. A previous example was the successful introduction by Arkla of the modern gas light to the national market. Over 50 gas lights decorate the grounds and buildings at Arkla Village.

Arkla Village is located on U.S. Highway 67, at Emmet, between Hope and Prescott, Ark. It is approximately 112 miles southwest of Little Rock and 95 miles north of Shreveport, La.
